

Antimicrobial Safety Products

2020 Post COVID-19 Landscape

Everything has changed

Staying safe is the new normal

- ✓ Hand Sanitizer Gel and Wipes are now essential
- ✓ "PPE" is now a common household phrase

Telecommuting from home is the new "corporate office"

People are wary of large gatherings, travel, and restaurants

Everything will also be the same

Milestones and appreciation are more important and need to be celebrated and recognized

- ✓ Weddings, Graduations & Births
- ✓ Employee and Customer Appreciation

Businesses will need to continue to advertise their products and services and interact and connect with your customers and employees

Antimicrobial - What is it?

An antimicrobial is an agent that kills microorganisms or stops their growth.

What is the different between Antibacterial & Antimicrobial?

The difference between, "an antibacterial is a chemical that specifically kills bacteria cells." Antimicrobial: is destructive to or inhibiting the growth of microorganisms.

An antimicrobial product is "an agent that inhibits the growth of a microorganism or kills such an organism outright."
